Talking to Children About COVID-19

Remain calm and reassuring

- Children will react to and follow your verbal and nonverbal reactions.
- What you say and do about COVID-19, current prevention efforts, and related events can either increase or decrease your children's anxiety.
- If true, emphasize to your children that they and your family are fine.
- Let your children talk about their feelings and help reframe their concerns into the appropriate perspective.

Make yourself available

- Children may need extra attention from you and may want to talk about their concerns, fears, and questions.
- It is important that they know they have someone who will listen to them; make time for them.
- Tell them you love them and give them plenty of affection.

Avoid excessive blaming

- When tensions are high, sometimes we try to blame someone.
- It is important to avoid stereotyping any one group of people as responsible for the virus.
- Be aware of any comments that other adults are having around your family. You may have to explain what comments mean if they are different from the values that you have at home.

Monitor television viewing and social media

- Limit television viewing or access to information on the Internet and through social media. Try to avoid watching or listening to information that might be upsetting when your children are present.
- Speak to your child about how many stories about COVID-19 on the Internet may be based on rumors and inaccurate information.
- Talk to your child about factual information about this disease—this can help reduce anxiety.
- Constantly watching updates on the status of COVID-19 can increase anxiety—avoid this.
- Engage your child in games or other interesting activities instead.

Maintain a normal routine to the extent possible

- Keep to a regular schedule, as this can be reassuring and promotes physical health.

- Encourage your children to keep up with their schoolwork and extracurricular activities, but don't push them if they seem overwhelmed.

Be honest and accurate

- In the absence of factual information, children often imagine situations far worse than reality.
- Don't ignore their concerns, but rather explain that at the present moment very few people in this country are sick with COVID-19.
- For additional factual information go to the CDC website.

Know the symptoms of COVID-19.

- The CDC believes these symptoms appear in a few days after being exposed to someone with the disease or as long as 14 days after exposure:
- Fever
- Cough
- Shortness for breath
- For some people the symptoms are like having a cold; for others, they are quite severe or even life-threatening. In either case, it is important to check with your child's healthcare provider (or yours) and follow instructions about staying home or away from public spaces to prevent the spread of the virus.

Review and model basic hygiene and healthy lifestyle practices for protection.

- Encourage your child to practice every day good hygiene—simple steps to prevent the spread of illness:
 - Wash hands multiple times a day for at least 20 seconds
 - Cover their mouths with a tissue when they sneeze or cough and throw away the tissue immediately, or sneeze or cough into the bend of their elbow. Do not share food or drinks.
 - Practice giving fist or elbow bumps instead of handshakes. Fewer germs are spread this way.
- Giving children guidance on what they can do to prevent infection gives them a greater sense of control over disease spread and will help to reduce their anxiety.
- Encourage your child to eat a balanced diet, get enough sleep, and exercise regularly; this will help them develop a strong immune system to fight off illness.

Remain calm and reassuring.

- Children will react to and follow your verbal and nonverbal reactions.
- What you say and do about COVID-19, current prevention efforts, and related events can either increase or decrease your children's anxiety.
- If true, emphasize to your children that they and your family are fine.
- Remind them that you and the adults at their school are there to keep them safe and healthy.
- Let your children talk about their feelings and help reframe their concerns into the appropriate perspective.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

BEWARE OF COVID-19 SCAMS

As the state of California and San Diego County continue to respond to the ongoing threat posed by COVID-19, the San Diego County District Attorney's Office is warning consumers to be on alert for scams related to COVID-19. Scammers are taking advantage of fears and anxiety surrounding the Coronavirus. Here are some tips to help you keep the scammers at bay:

ECONOMIC IMPACT PAYMENT SCAMS

- The IRS will deposit your economic impact payment into the direct deposit account you previously provided on your tax return (or, in the alternative, send you a paper check). The IRS will NOT call and ask you to verify your payment details. Do NOT give out your bank account, debit account, or PayPal account information - even if someone claims it is necessary to get your economic impact payment. Beware of this scam.
- If you receive a call, do NOT engage with the scammers or thieves. Just hang up. If you receive texts or email claiming that you can get your money faster by sending personal information or clicking on links, delete them. Do not click on any links in those emails.
- Reports are also swirling about bogus checks. If you received a "check" in the mail now, it's a fraud - it will take the Treasury Department a few weeks to distribute the payments. If you receive a "check" for an odd amount (especially one with cents), or a check that requires that you verify the check online or by calling a number, it's a fraud.
- Don't respond to texts and emails about checks from the government. Anyone who tells you they can get you the money now is a scammer.
- Don't be a victim! Visit www.irs.gov or www.irs.gov/coronavirus for the latest information.

CHARITY SCAMS

- Don't let anyone rush you into making a donation. If someone wants donations in cash, by gift card, or by wiring money, don't do it.
- Do your homework when it comes to donations, whether through charities or crowdfunding sites.
- The "Charities Search" section of California Attorney General's Web site offers links to GuideStar's information on California charities, including many charities' filings with the IRS, Form 990. For more information, visit <https://oag.ca.gov/charities>.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

BEWARE OF COVID-19 SCAMS

As the state of California and San Diego County continue to respond to the ongoing threat posed by COVID-19, the San Diego County District Attorney's Office is warning consumers to be on alert for scams related to COVID-19. Scammers are taking advantage of fears and anxiety surrounding the Coronavirus. Here are some tips to help you keep the scammers at bay:

FAKE ORGANIZATIONS

Consumers should be on alert for criminals who may set up fake websites, send emails, texts or post on social media pretending to be from the World Health Organization or the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in an attempt to profit illegally.

MIRACLE CURES

Be wary of business claiming to have a miracle cure. There is no cure for the coronavirus, yet. Do not respond to anyone claiming to have the vaccination or a cure.

COVID-19 VACCINES

Ignore online offers for vaccinations and home test kits. Scammers are trying to get you to buy products that aren't proven to treat or prevent the Coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) — online or in stores. At this time, there also are no FDA-authorized home test kits for the Coronavirus. Visit FDA.gov to learn more.

ROBOCALLS

Hang up on robocalls. Don't press any numbers. Scammers are using illegal robocalls to pitch everything from scam Coronavirus treatments to work-at-home schemes. The recording might say that pressing a number will let you speak to a live operator or remove you from their call list, but it might lead to more robocalls, instead.

UNOFFICIAL INFORMATION

Fact-check information. Scammers, and sometimes well-meaning people, share information that hasn't been verified. Before you pass on any messages, contact trusted sources. Visit what the U.S. Government is doing at USA.gov for links to federal, state and local government agencies.

ONLINE SELLERS

Know who you're buying from. Online sellers may claim to have in-demand products, like cleaning, household, and health and medical supplies when, in fact, they don't.

PHISHING EMAILS

Don't click on links from sources you don't know. They could download viruses onto your computer or device.
